Why attend

Many organisations operate separate quality, environmental and health and safety systems. Integrating them reduces duplication and improves effectiveness. This course covers the common structure of ISO standards, integration approaches, combined risk processes, documentation, audits and management reviews.

Integrated systems save time and present a single, coherent approach to stakeholders. This course helps you design and implement an integrated management system.

Professional Problems This Course Is Designed to Solve

- Difficulty translating subject knowledge into practical workplace decisions.
- Inconsistent approaches to the activities covered in the course outline.
- Lack of a structured plan for applying and reviewing new skills.

Course methodology

The course uses integration mapping, documentation design workshops, audit planning exercises and case studies.

Course objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
- Explain the common structure of ISO management standards
- Identify integration opportunities and challenges
- Design integrated processes and documentation
- Combine risk, objectives and legal compliance processes
- Plan integrated internal audits
- Conduct integrated management reviews

Target audience

This course is suitable for:
- Quality, environmental and HSE managers
- Management system coordinators
- Internal auditors
- Operations managers
- Consultants

Course content

Target competencies

Participants will develop competencies in:
- Management system integration
- Process design
- Integrated documentation
- Combined risk management
- Integrated auditing
- Management review
